

Sessional Class Leaders
The Sensory Sessions Edinburgh
Part-time

We are looking for sessional class leaders to work with our new and lovely company offering sensory development classes for newborns, babies and toddlers in locations across Edinburgh, the Lothians & Fife.

It is a fun and rewarding position with hours and days that suit you and your family/work commitments. We are looking for class leaders to work as little as six hours a week up to four full days. Full training is given, including first aid certification, and we'll be there to support you with class plans and provide you with all of the equipment. Our classes are held in Edinburgh, the Lothians & Fife.

We are looking for our class leaders to have a positive attitude, to be calm and have a love of babies and children. We want our class leaders to love learning and there are lots of opportunities to develop your skills and there will be lots of opportunities to grow within our company. Our sessions are 50 minutes long and include music toys, puppets, props, parachutes and lots of music and bubbles. Each session is scripted with playlists, information on child development, equipment and toys.

We offer our class leaders an initial rate of £18 a class fee, which includes set up, break up, cleaning and maintenance, and £10 an hour for training with us and for administration tasks. Our sessional class leaders are self employed and responsible for their own tax & NI payments. There will be opportunities for additional adhoc classes and parties. Drivers with their own vehicles are required. Applicants must be fit and healthy as the role requires some lifting and setting up of props and sensory areas.

Please contact us at hello@thesensorysessions.com if you need any further information from us.